

Dud's Maserati Margarita

I learned this one from my dad. After an evening session at Bolsa Chica, he'd come home and make one of these, so as to maximize the warm summer vibe. Basically, grab a jar, an old peanut butter jar is the right size. Put in $\frac{3}{4}$ cup Hornitos tequila – the one with ants on the label, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup Cointreau, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup fresh squeezed lime juice and $\frac{1}{4}$ cup water. Shake it up, pour over a glass packed with ice. Makes two margaritas, three if you're stingy.
